

3 questions

THE EHO WILL ASK ABOUT YOUR SANITISER

1 Does your sanitiser comply with the relevant British Standard?

Check if your sanitiser meets BS EN 1276 or BS EN 13697. You'll usually find this on the label. If in doubt, check with your supplier.

The EHO will look for this, so having the details ready to show them will make a good impression.

2 What is the contact time?

The EHO will expect everyone who uses it to know and follow the correct contact time. Each sanitiser needs a certain amount of time on a surface to reduce bacteria to a safe level.

If you spray and wipe straight away, it won't work properly. Check the product label for contact time, or ask your supplier if it's not listed.

3 Does it need dilution? And if so, how do you dilute it?

If your sanitiser needs dilution, follow the manufacturer's instructions carefully. You'll find these on the label or from your supplier.

If it's mixed incorrectly, it could be:

- Too strong – may taint food
- Too weak – won't kill bacteria effectively

